

20/20 onSite

Merging Mobile & Office Interactions

Product by

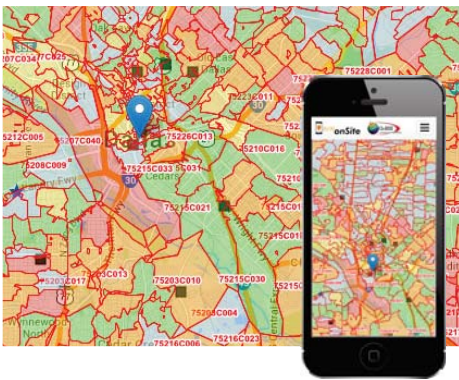

20/20onSite works in tandem with our site selection web application 20/20iSite, facilitating seamless collaboration in the office and out in the field.

Seamless Collaboration

Use 20/20iSite to help you forecast the potential profitability of sites, before you choose them. Explore demographics, void analysis, competitive threats and other factors that will lead you to better site selection decisions. Then with 20/20onSite take all your location analysis data on site - making successful site selection decisions quick and easy.

Opportunities at Your Fingertips

Evaluate the demographic and geographic information surrounding potential sites like median household income or traffic counts. Then hold all that information in the palm of your hand on site. Look at the big picture - from the full location analysis to the feeling you get when you through the doors. We help you make the best site selection decisions for your business.

Scale as You Grow

The tools and methods in your web application are tailored to adapt to your business needs and goals as you grow.

Download & Upload Anytime

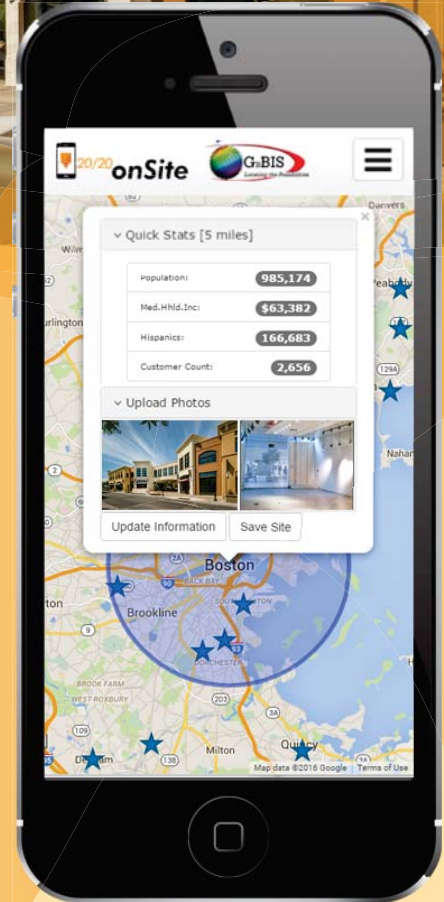

While checking out new locations in person, upload pictures, floor plans and notes that can immediately be viewed alongside all your demographics and data.
